

BECOME SOMEONE WHO SPEAKS WORDS OF LIFE

Become a qualified Christian Counsellor with aifc.

What should I look for when choosing a provider? Ask yourself:

Are the courses Bible-based?

Are they taught by professionals?

Does it offer flexible learning?

Are the courses accredited?

Is the study affordable?

aifc offers courses that are theologically sound, taught by highly qualified professionals and are accredited by ACA and PACFA. aifc is a member of ACPET and offers flexible learning through our online supported mode. Our courses continue to be affordable and within reach of those seeking to become a professional counsellor or furthering their counselling training journey.

About studying with aifc

- Aifc's enrolments are in the months of February and July of each year.
- If you wish to take the Masters course fully online, you need to first enrol into the Graduate Diploma course before proceeding to the Masters level.
- When you enrol through the aifc website, you will be asked in Page 1 under Personal Details the question, "Where did you find out about the course?" It is important that you tick "From the promotion and activities of the Asia Christian Counseling Association (ACCA)" or "From the promotion and activities of the national Christian Counseling body" to be given a 5% discount from the total course fees. This discount is applicable only for new students from the ACCA member countries.

ACCA is not involved in the content, delivery and administration of the AIFC courses. Nothing in this affiliation shall be construed to make ACCA or the national Christian counseling bodies as agent, partner or representative of AIFC to hold ACCA responsible for the courses.
